MEDIA RELEASE

5 JUNE 2007

Here come the chooks...

The Royal National Capital Agricultural Society is organising the Royal Canberra National Poultry Show once again and is encouraging the Canberra community to have chooks in their backyard.

At the show this weekend, there will be a display of over 1000 Show birds and visitors will be able to buy poultry that are for sale.

The birds will be judged by five judges that have come a long way! For instance, the Softfeather Large Judge – Mr Graham Sharp will be coming all the way from Armidale, NSW.

It's an opportunity to buy from reputable breeders and to look forward to fresh tasty eggs from your backyard.

So, come along to the Poultry Show at Exhibition Park in Canberra, Fitzroy Pavilion and experience a special event.

The Royal Canberra National Poultry Show will be held on Saturday 9 June, 9am – 4pm, and Sunday 10 June, 9am – 1pm.
Show entry is ONLY $2.
